NORTHEAST REGULATES PRINTING INDUSTRY

4. Prior to an intended change in the firm name, officials, or address, a statement of intent and the original permit must be sent to the local public security agency, which will submit the documents to the Ministry. After a new permit has been issued by the Ministry, necessary changes will be made in the business license by the local commerce and industry agency. A record will also be kept by the security agency.

5. Firm owners who do not reside at their places of business or who change their home addresses, or who change the status of their production equipment, must report to the local security agency within 5 days so that a suitable entry may be made in the records. The family of a firm owner who dies or becomes mentally deranged must also report such circumstances within 5 days.
6. In fulfilling contracts for goods, firms must itemize the account and obtain a seal of inspection from the local security agency.
7. The local security agency may investigate the premises and books of any firm subject to these regulations at any time, upon display of proper identification.
8. In the case of firms forming societies or associations, a report in duplicate must be made, within 5 days, one copy to be filed by the local security agency and the other sent to the Ministry of Public Security.
9. Before firms can cast, engrave or print seals, insignia, stamps, emblems, medals, citations, announcements, proclamations, commissions, passes, identification cards, etc., for a military or government agency, public hospital or school, or an enterprise manufacturing military supplies, a letter of certification from the head of the organization must be submitted and a permit obtained from the local public security agency or the Ministry of Security.
10. Firms who are requested to manufacture regulated articles by suspicious persons lacking authorization, or failing or surrender authorization, must immediately report the matter to the local security or military police agencies. Those who do so will be rewarded; those who fail to comply will be punished.
11. Manufacturers or purveyors of illegal reactionary religious seals or printed matter injurious to society and public security, or playing cards, dice, and similar gambling devices, will be fined and will suffer confiscation of their goods.
12. Firms in operation prior to the promulgation of these regulations must apply for a license in accordance with the procedures herein stated within 3 months.
